I. Call to Order

Tom Yager of the Arlington Courthouse Greens accepted as facilitator. Kirit Mookerjee volunteers to co-facilitate if necessary. Carey Campbell of the RAIL NOW! Greens accepted as timekeeper, Mason Payne of the Richmond Greens accepted as the vibes watcher, and Kathy Orion accepted as the scribe.

II. Bill Redpath, the Libertarian candidate for Governor of Virginia, asked for the GPVAs nomination. He spoke about electoral reform, the death penalty, and environmental issues.

III. Discussion of the Agenda

A proposal was made for the group to go "round robin" for comments upon various issues, rather than do a "stack". This suggestion was accepted by the group.

A proposal was made to reject the prepared agenda and craft an agenda that gives at least half the meeting to discussion of our common values and what they mean to us each. This proposal was rejected by majority vote.

A "friendly amendment" to the agenda as it stood was proposed: when we get to the agenda item concerning candidates, we will take some time to re-evaluate this particular item. This amendment was accepted.

Charlie Jordan of the Blue Ridge Greens proposed to add in time to formally accept the recently submitted resignations of GPVA officers Eric Sheffield of the Rockbridge Greens, Sherry Stanley of the Valley Greens, and Sharon Williams. This proposal was also accepted.

Charlie Jordan proposed to amend Jeremy Good's agenda item, "resignation speech", to "resignation letter". This proposal was also accepted.

Charlie Jordan proposed to change the order in which new officers would be voted on, to:

- Female Co-clerk
- Male Co-clerk
- Treasurer
- Press Secretary

This proposal was also accepted.

IV. Charlie Jordan reported on the work of the GPVA Redistricting Committee.

V. Web Committee Report
by Susan Dridi of the Arlington Courthouse Greens. Discussed numerous issues:

- Project methodologies.
- Privacy policy.
- Notifications to locals of new members.
- Coordination with newsletter editor, press secretary, and local contacts.
- Updating information on the website.

VI. Local Reports:
Locals represented (Richmond, Tidewater, Rockbridge, Central VA, Arlington Courthouse, NOVA, Rail Now!, New River Valley, Blue Ridge, Main Street, Loudoun, and Valley) presented current activities, etc. which included candidates, election reforms, standards of learning, death penalty, environment, living wage, and teaching non-violence.

VII. Newsletter:
It was generally recognized that Steven Kruh has de facto resigned from his position as editor of the newsletter.

David Gaines and Chris Simmons of the Loudoun Greens, offered their services, to do the "nuts and bolts" of the paper. This was accepted by the group, with Charlie Jordan standing aside. David further clarified his local's function in this matter: they will be responsible for design and distribution, not content. It is up to GPVA members to submit articles.

It was decided to try to get out two issues by the end of summer, as we are behind, and as this is a major source of fund-raising.

BREAK (LUNCH)

VIII. Affiliation of Locals:
Discussion of RAIL NOW! Greens affiliation.

XII. Election of Female Co-clerk.
Thom Farrell proposed grouped Instant Run-Off Voting for the co-clerks, wherein the nominated stand off in separate spots, and members vote with their feet, by moving to the location of their candidate of choice. After a result has been determined the group comes together to congratulate the new officer. Proposal was accepted by consensus.

Kathy Orion and Jana Cutlip were nominated, and accepted their nominations.

Jana Cutlip of the Central VA Greens was elected female Co-Clerk. There was also one vote for Margaret Rood.

XIII. Election of Male Co-clerk.
Tom Yager, Mason Payne, and Jeremy Good were nominated for male co-clerk. Tom Yager and Mason Payne accepted their nominations, and Jeremy Good did not accept his nomination. Tom Yager stepped aside as facilitator during the male-co clerk election and was replaced by Kirit Mookerjee.

By the same 'vote with your feet' method, Tom Yager was elected male Co-Clerk. There was also one vote for Eli Fishpaw.

XIV. Gary Reams, the Libertarian Party candidate hopeful for Lt. Governor of Virginia, asked for the GPVAs nomination. He spoke on abolishing the War on Drugs and a lawsuit, together with the ACLU, in which relief is sought, for a party member to list his affiliation on the ballot.
